LEGEND:

UNH Cucurbit Breeding

The cucurbit breeding program at the University of New Hampshire is one of the longest run breeding programs of its kind in the United States. Work on cucurbit crops, and many other horticultural crops, began at the New Hampshire Agricultural Experiment Station in the 1940s with Drs. Albert Yeager and Elwyn Meader. From 1967-2020, Dr. James Brent Loy was the primary breeder working with cucurbit crops. His work led to the release of over 80 varieties of squash, pumpkins, and melons. Today the cucurbit program continues under the leadership of Dr. Christopher Hernandez.

Breeding Highlights

- Novel pumpkin colors including shades of yellow, tan, and white
- Winter squash with high carotenoid content, flavor, and disease resistance
- Summer squash without spines

Research Highlights

- New sources for powdery mildew resistance in pumpkins and squash
- Development of molecular markers for various traits such as plant habit, disease resistance, and color

EVERY CLASS OFFERED HEREIN WHICH IS COVERED BY THE RULES AND SPECIFICATIONS OF THE CURRENT USEF RULE BOOK WILL BE CONDUCTED AND JUDGED IN ACCORDANCE THEREWITH.

All questions not covered in these rules and regulations shall be decided by the show management whose decision shall be final.

Every horse entered for competition will comply with the rules of the horse show management, but management will, in no case, be responsible for any loss or damage that may occur, and it shall be condition of entry that each exhibitor shall hold this horse show and the officials and employees of the show blameless for any loss or accident to their horse, employees, equipment, which may occur from sickness, fire or otherwise.

The management reserves the right to refuse, accept conditionally, or to cancel any entries, disqualify any riders or exhibitors, prohibit entries and cancel award prizes without claims for damages; to cancel or combine unfilled classes, or to reschedule classes after due notice to exhibitors; to change rings or rotate judges.

Exhibitors are notified that any act of discourtesy or disobedience to the judges or officials, on the part of the owner, manager, rider, or groom shall disqualify the horse, and the owner shall forfeit his entry fee and other fees.

Show management reserves to itself the power to prohibit any person from attending or showing a horse in the ring and to remove any groom or horse from the show without being liable for compensation.

In accordance with the 1989 Federal Waste Tracking Act, which restricts the disposal of medical waste, bio-hazardous medical waste containers will be provided in the stable area. All exhibitors and their agents are responsible for the proper disposal of this waste.

No person will be allowed in the show ring during the time of judging except the exhibitor and those having official or requested duties to perform.

LIABILITY

The University of New Hampshire, their officials, organizers, and employees will not be responsible for any accident, injury or loss which may occur to any exhibitor, spectators, guest, rider, groom, attendant, other employees, animals, or equipment at the events. All owners and competitors are personally responsible for damages to third persons caused by themselves, their employees, their agents, or their horses.

UNH HORSE TRIALS through the years

1970s

1971-1972

The first official UNH Horse Trials was held.

1971-Present

The UNH Horse Trials ran biannually, until a third competition was added to the show in 2009 during the summer. It now runs biannually since 2014.

FUN FACTS

The UNH Horse Trials is the only horse trials held entirely on a college campus in the United States!

Many internationally recognized riders started at the University of New Hampshire:

Ashley MacVaugh, Karen Stives, Stephanie Baer, Denny Emerson, Mark Weissbecker, Kerry Millikin, Nancy Guyotte, Michael Plumb, Jim Stamets, and more!

Hardy Hydrangeas for New Hampshire

September 2022

K. Orde, E. Lukacz, B. Sideman

University of New Hampshire, Durham, NH

Fourteen varieties of three (3) widely available species of hydrangea were planted in 2020, and were evaluated for landscape and cut flower use at Woodman Farm from 2020 to 2022.

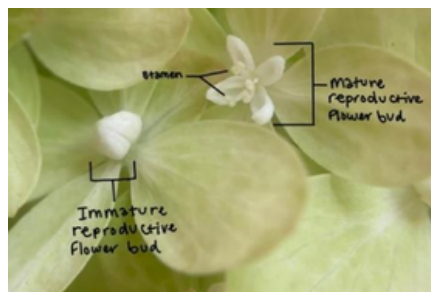

We thank our sponsors of this project, and Cathy Neal, Extension Specialist Emerita, for her advice and guidance in this project.

Hydrangea Facts

- Blooms can be used fresh or dried, and offer a wide range of colors (white, green, magenta, light-pink, and purple) and textures (both lacey, loose, and dense).
- Unlike “Big Leaf” hydrangea (H. macrophylla), the three species above have fixed colors that don't depend on soil pH.
- Once established, woody crops are relatively low maintenance and will produce harvestable product for many years

Easy to average, for horses with some experience at these levels. The fall tracks are intended to be level-appropriate challenge, to suit horses who have been competing at their given level during the course of the season and are not intended as move-up courses. Expect drops/banks, water and ditches as appropriate for each level. Courses go through wooded trails and agricultural fields. Cross-country warm-up may be on grass, adjacent to the XC startbox for some divisions. Other divisions will have XC warm-up in the 100x200' sand/rubber warm-up arena.

Starter level not to exceed 2'3" in jump height. It will be easy, inviting, and run in accordance with the rules governing this sport. Cross country will not include water or ditch elements for the starter level.

Every effort will be made to keep the time between dressage and the jumping phases as short as possible, but please note that we cannot start any jumping until all of dressage is concluded due to logistical restrictions, and this sometimes requires one or two divisions to have a longer break between these two phases.

Competitors will jump their show jumping first and may wear cross-country attire. There will be about 20-25 minutes in between riders' show jumping rounds and cross-country start times. Cross country and show jumping schedules may be adjusted as entries warrant, please verify your ride times online at the start of the competition.

Science that works for New Hampshire

How research, teaching, and Extension are driving real-world solutions for the Granite State

The UNH College of Life Sciences and Agriculture — home to both Cooperative Extension and the NH Agricultural Experiment Station — plays a critical role in the university's commitment to strengthening economies and ecosystems across New Hampshire. Our research and collaborations directly address the real challenges faced by individuals, families, businesses and communities in our state; workforce development meets the specific needs of state industries; and high-impact learning engages students of all ages.

These highlighted projects — a fraction of what our researchers, educators and students bring to the Granite State — represent the myriad ways we fulfill the land grant teaching, research, and extension missions entrusted to us by the people of New Hampshire.

NHAES + STUDENTS | New tools to improve forest management and wildlife: Building a network of game cameras and automated acoustic sensors to non-invasively and affordably assess wildlife and improve land management to jointly benefit healthy forests, recreation, and tourism.

NHAES + EXTENSION | Precision dairy monitoring for small-scale New England dairies: Placing sensors that provide real-time health and behavior data for each cow reduce labor and improve decision making in nutrition, health, and environmental management.

EXTENSION + STUDENTS | Building the forestry workforce: An entry level credential to address a critical workforce shortage for an industry that generates $1.6 billion annually for the state by creating an accessible pathway into forestry careers.

NHAES + EXTENSION + STUDENTS | Tracking cyanobacteria toxins: Developing advanced methods to detect and track how cyanobacteria toxins form, move, and break down in water and in agricultural crops, improving ways to reduce risks to people.

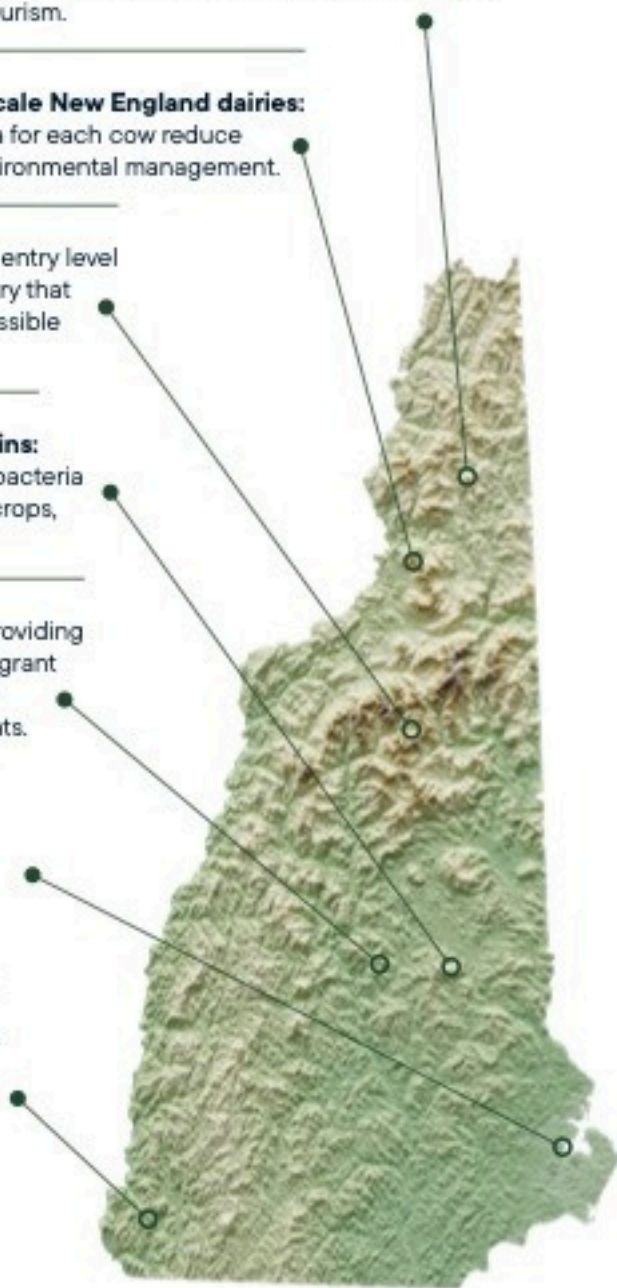

EXTENSION | Keeping small farms viable and sustainable: Providing technical guidance, on farm mentoring, and federal innovation grant access to help Stark Farm, an organic pick-your-own blueberry operation, overcome severe crop losses and invasive pest threats.

NHAES | Strengthening trout hatcheries and salmon aquaculture: Innovating affordable plant-based fish diets to reduce dependence on limited marine resources and improve abundance of healthy fish to stock Granite State rivers and supply local seafood products.

NHAES + EXTENSION | Cost-effective precision crop disease detection: Testing the feasibility of unmanned aerial vehicles (UAV) to provide effective surveillance and early detection of disease in corn fields, including brown-midrib (BMR) corn, an important variety for silage production.

WOODMAN HORTICULTURE RESEARCH FARM

Part of the NH Agricultural Experiment Station

ABOUT THE FARM

This approximately 155-acre research farm located on the western edge of the main campus is home to the UNH Equine Program cross country course. The UNH Equine Program uses the Horticultural Farm at least two times per year for nationally approved horse trials. The property is also used by students in the ANSC 402 Horsemanship program and for special educational clinic events.

FARM USES

Part of the farm is wooded and used as an outdoor classroom for research and teaching in areas such as forestry, wildlife biology, entomology, and water quality. The farm hosts many visitors each year, and it is a frequent site of outreach programs for agricultural initiatives.
